

Straight Outta COVID-19: Designing for Equity

November 9, 2020

Welcome

- Introduce yourselves.
 - Share who you are, where you are from, and one hope you have for this school year.
- Ask and answer questions.
 - Use the chat function to pose questions of our panelists. All attendees are encouraged to respond.
 - We will leave time for our panelists to answer questions.
- Share your learning.
 - Tell your colleagues what you are learning. Use #Aurora2020 on Twitter and mention @Aurora_Inst.
- We are recording and archiving the webinar.
 - The slides and video will be available on aurora-institute.org.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Folx will...

- Analyze the impacts of COVID-19 as a way to understand historical patterns of inequity by design our education system.
- Engage in critical discourse about how equity in the classroom supports the academic success of every student.
- Understand how equity and culturally responsive teaching drives instruction to meet the needs of students, online and in the classroom.

Impacts of COVID-19 In Our Schools

- What have been the impacts of COVID in our schools? What do we see?
- How have the impacts been disproportionate across lines of difference?
- Why are the impacts disproportionate? What are the structural and cultural reasons?

JAMBOARD

In order to be a disruptor you have to understand the “why.”

COVID-19 did not create inequity in our schools, it exposed it and exacerbated it.

Traditional School: Inequitable by Design

- Relies on assumptions about intelligence and assessment developed by eugenicists.
- Privileges Western, white, masculine, Cartesian, colonialist, ableist ways of knowing and being.
- Constructed to sort and stratify.
- Both defined by and fundamental to the myth of meritocracy.
- Often the first place that students are consciously socialized to their role in the oppressive order.

The background is a deep blue with a subtle, mottled texture. Overlaid on this are several abstract network diagrams. These consist of small circular nodes connected by thin, light-colored lines. Some nodes are white, some are light orange, and some are dark brown. The lines are thin and light-colored, creating a web-like structure that spans across the image. The text is centered within a white rectangular box that has a slight drop shadow, making it stand out from the background.

What if we designed school to see the brilliance in EVERY child?

Designing for Equity Principles

Designing for Equity Principle 1

All learners are equally valuable to our society in different ways. It is our collective responsibility to create a system which identifies and nurtures the brilliance of every learner.

Designing for Equity Principle 2

All learners get what they need to support their academic and social and emotional growth.

Designing for Equity Principle 3

Learners cultural characteristics, experiences, and perspectives should be used as conduits for teaching them more effectively.

Closing Discussion

How might have schools designed for equity responded differently to the COVID-19 crisis?
